

Introduction

Coming soon will be a range of concise caresheets on a range of different marine aquaria topics. These are aimed at the new hobbyist and will be freely available for stores and businesses to distribute to their customers. They will consist of a single A4 sheet, covering the basic facts on the particular topic. The goal is to provide guidance to those starting out and be an easily accessible and usable resource for any marine aquaria related business to utilise freely. Space will be provided for the business to add their own contact details to help promote their business further.

An example of the type of thing that they will be, have a look at the Clownfish Caresheet, put together by MASOV just when Finding Nemo came out.
